Late entries will be accepted only under exceptional circumstances, and then only at the discretion of the Controlling Body. All entries must be for existing Club members as at the date of entry. No unnamed entries shall be accepted.

Any player on a team (except Substitutes or Replacements - see 12 below) may play as skip in each match, but once a match has begun the players in the team must not change position.

Constitution of Players/Teams

Intended players will become constituted immediately when their first game in the competition has commenced (when the jack is delivered in the first end), even when a substitute is playing in an intended player's place.

The intended players of a team credited with a win by default become constituted players.

If an intended player or team forfeits their first match, the affected players become constituted and therefore ineligible to act as a replacement player or substitute in that competition.

An intended player or team receiving an unpaired bye in the first round of a competition become constituted as soon as their opponent(s) in the second round become constituted.

Intended players or teams receiving matching byes in the first round of a competition become constituted immediately when their first game in the competition has commenced (when the jack is delivered in the first end of the second round).

If an intended player or team withdraws without being constituted, the affected players are regarded as not having entered the competition and are therefore eligible to act as replacement players or substitutes in that competition.

A constituted team must not be altered during a game in either personnel or playing position, except as necessitated by the introduction of a substitute.

Prior to the start of any subsequent game in the same competition, the playing positions of the constituted personnel can be altered.

Constituted players in a team, whether defeated or not, are ineligible to act as a substitute, become a replacement player, or become a constituted player in any other team in the same competition.

3. FORMATS

Singles competitions:

If one player/team in a match forfeits, the opposing player/team shall be deemed the winner. If both players/teams in a match forfeit, the opposing player/team in the next round shall receive a bye.
